

Boundaries

Chase Coy

Silent as I lay there
Sky was turning red

Satellites and cold air
Circled overhead

Suddenly I realize

The world is only
As big as our body
As small as we let ourselves be

The more we take in
The borders extend
Yeah

We fought our own boundaries

The defining decision
Kept ringing in my ears

Every breathe I let out
Became my atmosphere

The world is only
As big as our bodies
As small as we let ourselves be

The more we take in
The borders extend
Yeah

We fought our own boundaries

Found beneath the edges
Of our soul
We only know as much
As you let known

We can live on our own like islands

We can stand up as tall as giants

We can stand up as tall as giants

We can stand up as tall as giants

We can stand up as tall as giants

We can stand up as tall as giants

Cause the world is only
As big as our bodies
As small as we let ourselves be

The more we take in
The borders extend

Yeah

We fought our own boundaries
