

Each Shallow Breath

Chase Coy

Six months since I first found you
And I can't help myself
Thinking about your Voice like springtime

Baby you're so divine
Eyes like daylight

You save me
'Cause every time you speak
Each sentence sounds like scripture
And every word's holy
Each shallow breath the breath of God

So breathe some life into me
So breathe some life into me

I know firsthand you can never be too careful
This time last year I was sleeping with the devil
Now she's no friend of mine
But baby you're so divine
I was so blind

You saved me
'Cause every time you speak
Each sentence sounds like scripture
And every word's holy
Each shallow breath the breath of God

So breathe some life into me
So breathe some life into me
So breathe some life into me
So breathe some life into me

You speak slowly, right hand in my left
You speak softly, your head on my chest
Watch it rise, watch it fall
With each shallow breath

You speak slowly, right hand in my left
You speak softly, your head on my chest
Watch it rise, watch it fall
With each shallow breath
Watch it rise, watch it fall
With each shallow breath
