

Shortcuts

Chase Matthew

Some say
You gotta be a born believer
Some say
And some think
That you won't find another healer
Some think

But some say I know better than the next man
I won't turn left to a right hand
And I'm still strong, yeah I've heard that
And right from wrong, yeah I've learned that
I'm not hiding what's inside me
I've learned my lesson, I know you can't see
And hell yeah man, it's been a long road
But thank you Lord for the shortcuts home

Some say
You got to push through the hurting
Some say
Some think
That their life ain't really worth it
Some think

But some say I know better than the next man
And I'm still strong, yeah I've heard that
And right from wrong, yeah I've learned that
I'm not hiding what's inside me
I've learned my lesson, I know you can't see
And hell yeah man, it's been a long road
But thank you Lord for the shortcuts home
For the shortcuts home

I'm not hiding a thing
I'm not hiding a thing
I'm not hiding a thing

But some say I know better than the next man
And I'm still strong, yeah I've heard that
And right from wrong, yeah I've learned that
I'm not hiding what's inside me
I've learned my lesson, I know you can't see
And hell yeah man, it's been a long road
But thank you Lord for the shortcuts home
For the shortcuts home
