

Big City Small Town

Chase McDaniel

I thought this town would be big enough for the the two of us
But when that sun sinks down, I don't know who to trust
Got people everywhere at every bar
Telling me like I wanna know where the hell you been parking your car

I thought a breakup in the city would be easier to take, but
Feels a little like the middle of a po-dunk county with the one pump
Everybody knows somebody, girl, I can't run

Going downtown now that we're done feels a lot
Like the one stop dot that I came from
Run into your crowd, all the same
Like a Sunday morning service or a Friday night home game
I try, but I can't hide heartbreak in a high rise
See you getting over me under the streetlights
Thought I'd never see you, but you're all around
Girl, you make a big city feel like a small town, small town

There's a million people here, but you keep running into me
And you'd think there'd be enough bars to stay apart on division street
Follow me every night at every place
Just not what I imagined when you said you needed space
I thought a breakup in the city would be easier to take, but
Feels a little like the middle of a po-dunk county with the one pump
Everybody knows somebody, girl, I can't run

Going downtown now that we're done feels a lot
Like the one stop dot that I came from
Run into your crowd, all the same
Like a Sunday morning service or a Friday night home game
I try, but I can't hide heartbreak in a high rise
See you getting over me under the streetlights
Thought I'd never see you, but you're all around
Girl, you make a big city feel like a small town, small town

Whoa
Thought you were gone walkin' out on me out on me
Whoa
But you're all around and it's killin' me I won't be

Going downtown now that we're done feels a lot
Like the one stop dot that I came from
Run into your crowd, all the same
Like a Sunday morning service or a Friday night home game
I try, but I can't hide heartbreak in a high rise
See you getting over me under the streetlights
Thought I'd never see you, but you're all around
Girl, you make a big city feel like a small town, small town
