

Watch it change in my hands
Watch the whole goddamn world change
Everything that I know
Completely obliterated
Watch it change in my hands
Watch the whole goddamn world change
I was driving all the way

I didn't stop here to stay, but I can feel it
But I can feel it all
I can feel it
But I can feel it all
I can feel it
But I can feel it all
I can feel it
But I can feel it all

And they were back
Out in the world then
And their skin was cold to the touch
And they were back
Out in the world then
And their skin was cold to the touch
And they were back
Out in the world then
And their skin was cold to the touch
And they were back
Out in the world then
And their skin was cold to the touch

So close your eyes and know them
Close your eyes and feel them change
Everything inside me
Completely disintegrated
Close your eyes and know them
Close your eyes and feel their pain
I was driving all the way

I didn't stop here to stay, but I can feel it
But I can feel it all
I can feel it
But I can feel it all
I can feel it
But I can feel it all
I can feel it
But I can feel it all

Let's watch it again
Let's watch it again
Let's watch it again

And they were back
Out in the world then
And they were back

And they were back
And they were back
