You remind a little of Hitler You even resemble his picture Oh violins will playing On your grave

I saw your crying
I caught you lieing
I know you cheated
Inside you're laughing
You got me running
You got me hiding
No sympathy
For your symphony of lieing

Violins
They'll be playing playing
On your grave
They'll be playing playing

Tell those invited
Tell those invited
Our kids was playing
The band is silent
You got me running
You got me hiding
No sympathy
For your symphony of lieing

Violins
They'll be playing playing
On your grave
They'll be playing playing
Violins
They'll be playing playing
On your grave
They'll keep playing playing

You got me running You got me hiding I know you cheated Inside your laughing You got me running You got me hiding So sympathy For your symphony of lieing You got me running You got me hiding I know you're lieing You got me running You got me You got me You really got me You got me You got me You really got me
