

Thank you so much
Thank you so much

Ooh, I had to move on
But you put in all the work
Didn't have to lift a finger
I just watched you make it worse
Let you lash out
Let you drag me through the dirt
Because you made me heal quicker
Just by trying to make it hurt

I know I closed the door, but you locked it
You really put the nail in the coffin
It made me leaving you something easy to do

Thank you so much for acting so bad
You really messed up, and I'm happy about that
Now I'm all so grateful because you made pain less painful

Thank you so much
Thank you so much

Does it make you feel big
When you treat me like I'm small?
Little do you know
It's only softening my fall
So start another fight
I'll let you think you're right
Spark another fire
I'll give you a light

I know I closed the door, but you locked it
You really put the nail in the coffin
It made me leaving you something easy to do

Thank you so much for acting so bad
You really messed up, and I'm happy about that
Now I'm all so grateful because you made pain less painful

Thank you so much
Thank you so much
Thank you so much
Thank you so much

Thank you so much
Thank you so much
Thank you so much
Thank you so much

Thank you so much for acting so bad
You really messed up, and I'm happy about that
Now I'm all so grateful because you made pain less painful

Thank you so much
