

Eden

Chef'Special

My dreams ain't any less fake nor cliche
As your neighbours or your mates on the end of this table
I just, need to say I'm grateful
Need a way to say it all
Cause out the two of us you're surely the bravest now
Please be patient with me
Please just wait and give me time
For this side in me to awake
This side in me to abide
Then I'll try to make it work
Oh, yes, I'll try to eat some dirt
Be the guy that you can lean on
Yeah, the guy that you deserve

Just a bit, a bit of time and I can
I can get your peace of mind so we can
Take a breath, realign our stories
Take a breath, now, stay with me, stay with me, go!

Running out of poetry
Don't let it get you down
Get up, get up, wake up now
Get up, get up, make a sound
Screaming from the side
Hoping you last another round
Get up, get up, wake up now!
Get up, get up, make a sound

Nobody's really far away nowadays
Cause we can see them on our screens
And we fulfill our instantt needs
And then, we don't know what to say
When a moment cries for meaning
We just see 'em and it fades
And we forget we really need 'em
For the wisdom that they own
And the place that you call home
My fucking legs and feet are tired
For the grass is always greener
Man, the garden of Eden
Was a fuck up for a reason
So lets write this one together
And lets not forget to read 'em please

Just a bit, a bit of time and I can
I can get your peace of mind so we can
Take a breath, realign our stories
Take a breath, now, stay with me, stay with me, go!

Running out of poetry
Don't let it get you down
Get up, get up, wake up now
Get up, get up, make a sound
Screaming from the side
Hoping you last another round
Get up, get up, wake up now!
Get up, get up, make a sound

Running out of poetry
Don't let it get you down
Get up, get up, wake up now
Get up, get up, make a sound
Screaming from the side
Hoping you last another round
Get up, get up, wake up now!
Get up, get up, make a sound

Just a bit, a bit of time and I can
I can get your peace of mind so we can
Take a breath, realign our stories
Take a breath, now, stay with me, stay with me, go!

Just a bit, a bit of time and I can
I can get your peace of mind so we can
Take a breath, realign our stories
Take a breath, now, stay with me, stay with me, go!

Running out of poetry
Don't let it get you down
Get up, get up, wake up now
Get up, get up, make a sound
Screaming from the side
Hoping you last another round
Get up, get up, wake up now!
Get up, get up, make a sound
