

Stick Around

Chef'Special

I put my shades on I'm ready for the day yo
The sun is hot and I'm ready for the rain yo
You look at me, I can't resist
Your eyes don't move and they never miss

There's somthin bout your way that I can't let go now
Your pride, your beauty, from head to toe now
There's love, they tell me, there's love I know
But my feet telling me that I have to go and yo

I don't know what I'm suppose to say
When you telling me you're willing to go all the way
My words don't work on this conversation babe
Can't we do this another day

I know you're not mine, but stick around, just stick around for now
I know you're not blind, but stick around, just stick around for now
I know it's not your style to live in doubt but stick around for now
I'll try, to make you feel like home

No need to tell me that's my grand mistake
Let you stay, everyday, kiss your cares away
I'm a fool for those tears on your cheeks
You're here so now weep, let me sing you to sleep
You don't trust me textin around
I get upset when your ex is in town
I see your face change, getting frustrated
When you can't figure out what I'm thinking about, but

I don't know what I'm suppose to think
When you fire all these questions bout the smallest things
My words don't work on this conversation babe
Can't we do this another day

I know you're not mine, but stick around, just stick around for now
I know you're not blind, but stick around, just stick around for now
I know it's not your style to live in doubt but stick around for now
I'll try, to make you feel like home

I lift you up and turn you down
Try to keep it cool but girl I just don't know how
It sounds so simple when you say
It's just a little thing I'm gonna have to change
But it seems so outa place, it seems so far away
Babe, can't we do this another day now

I know you're not mine, but stick around, just stick around for now
I know you're not blind, but stick around, just stick around for now
I know it's not your style to live in doubt but stick around for now
I'll try, to make you feel like home

I know you're not mine, but stick around, just stick around for now
I know you're not blind, but stick around, just stick around for now
I know it's not your style to live in doubt but stick around for now
I'll try, to make you feel like home
