

I Will

Chely Wright

Who's gonna stand up for your daughter?
Who's gonna stand up for your son?
The world is spinning off its axis
And the fight is never done

Keep ourselves busy pointing fingers
How can we always be that right?
Who will admit they made mistakes, y'all?
Who's gonna see the other side

I will, I will, I will, I will
I will

Just like a steady drop of water
That's fallen for years against a stone
Even the solid can be softened
We are more than flesh and bone

I've gotten lost in all the madness
Wondering how we fell apart
Who's gonna bend and grow together?
Who's gonna give with all their heart?

I will, I will, I will, I will
I will

Freedom is losing the burden
Of holding the other at bay
If I were to just pull you closer
Will you have something to say?

(I will)
See you
(I will)
Hear you
(I will)
Know you
(I will)
...

(I will)
Give my hand to help you up
(I will)
Give you more when there's not enough
(I will)
Even when it's hard to love
(I will)
...
