

A Case Of The Mondays

Chemical Vocation

I'm face down
Corrected
Blood force through me
I'm false tongue

I forward to keep
My head cool
And my feet above the ground

Do you remember all those things
We never planned
Do you remember all those places
That we never went

Don't hold me down
Am I starting to repeat myself

Keep waking up from these nightmares
I belong to the world outside
Consider me
Consider me just passing you by

Stop and stare 'cause there's no way
You'll ever find your way

And I can't believe
That everything I own is up for sale
Can't believe
That everyone keeps playing on and on

There's nothing left to savour

Do you remember all those things
We never planned
Do you remember all those places
That we never went

Don't hold me down
Am I starting to repeat myself

Through photographs
After all
Let's live in denial
And we're still worlds apart
And I'll always be a child
