

Heat Of The Morning

Cherryholmes

I walked in the days, to the heat of the morning
The letter you wrote, still lay by my bed
I felt in my heart, that dagger of sorrow
How I've wanted to die, from words that I've read

Last Night I heard, a lonesome dove crying
Where will I go, oh what will I do
I'm left here alone, in the heat of the morning
Forsaken by love, unwanted by you (Chorus)

(Break)

All of my dreams, have been so sequel
Sweet songs of the night, now bitter and cruel
The morning sunrise, is just a reminder
That I'm starting another day without you

(Chorus)

I'm left here alone, in the heat of the morning

Forsaken by love, unwanted by you (2x)
