

Black Or White People

Chesney Hawkes

(Chesney Hawkes/A Hammond)

Honest people just watch and ignore everybody closing the door I don't know if you wanna help all I see is that you need to lend a hand after all this time I can't imagine why you just don't understand

Black or white people uhuh
yellow, red, purple, who cares
It doesn't matter what colour your skin is It only matters, that something that comes from within Nothings changed, nothing is new, who's to blame for all that we do well it really doesn't matter now seems like everything will stay the same you don't know your neighbour and your neighbour doesn't even know your name

Black or white people uhuh
yellow, red, purple, who cares
It doesn't matter what colour your skin is It's that incredible something that comes from within

So many people have tried, they come and go in a while but now it's just you and I so come on let's try, come on let's try so come on let's try

Black or white people uhuh
yellow, red, purple, who cares
It doesn't matter what colour your skin is It's that beautiful feeling that comes from within
