

Premonition

Chester Watson

We really come alive when the moon wakes us
Some homies kept grinding, a few stay stuck
Really wasn't with the vibe, couple people changed up
'Cause they didn't see the vision, premonition raised us
We really come alive when the moon wakes us
Some homies kept grinding, a few stay stuck
Really wasn't with the vibe, couple people changed up
'Cause they didn't see the vision, premonition raised us

Yo, this was our destiny, a gift and a curse
Take it in as a lesson, the mystique immersed in a state of reflection
People change titles, won't change their perception
Me, I stay shrouded in smoke
I rise above mountains and float
Heighten my chalice and toast
To this life, to the gods and the most high
Some people tryna play both sides
I can see through them with closed eyes
Always been sharper than most minds
But I'm usually zooted, I roam high
And read up on Daoism, I'm not a Libra, but seeking the balance of what happens in life and what happens after one
Not even midnight but feels like it's after 1:00
Think it's just one of those days

We really come alive when the moon wakes us
Some homies kept grinding, a few stay stuck
Really wasn't with the vibe, couple people changed up
'Cause they didn't see the vision, premonition raised us
We really come alive when the moon wakes us
Some homies kept grinding, a few stay stuck
Really wasn't with the vibe, couple people changed up
'Cause they didn't see the vision, premonition raised us

Premonition raised us
Premonition raised us
Premonition raised us
Premonition raised us
Premonition raised us
