

Temple

Chester Watson

Yo, I've been waking up, having rough nights
Thankful for the breaks but never shut eyes
In other words I'm thankful for the way I never trust lies
That anybody throws me
Smarter swimming in the quarry, baby
Koi fish, But you can call me little Coi, darkest in the water so I blend in with the soil (Don't soil it)
I'm just a psychic on a voyage to destroy shit
And I Love Ugly keeps me cozier than toy pets stocked for toddlers in hospitals
And the ploy ends when they witness someone's clock ticking
Or they see the exponents on the bill that their mom's given, fuck Life got me seeing the plot's thicker than I thought it was Couldn't knock the problems under even if they bought the rug
They're too massive and the masses doesn't feel the need to change
It's quite drastic, can't be stagnant in this day and age
And for some time I felt my only friends were razor blades
It took some time to see that it was just a crazy phase
I needed time to [?] or maybe just a place to stay
And some Psymun beats, my optics got a wavy gaze
Wear the same fog and needle every day-to-day
A necromancer, [?] dancer with amazing taste
I got a squad, I got my clan and only they could say
Whether or not I'm being me 'cause I would hate to fake
'Cause I would hate to fake