

I Won't Run Away

Chiara Civello

is that so?
is that how you go?
no worry.. no bother
won't talk to each other just drop my things at my place and go

all i know is that soon it will snow and when summer is covered the cold will take over and freeze the lands, everything that grows but tell me why you're still here if you leave me, make it clear

'cause i won't run away
i won't run away

now when i cry
i'm no longer shy
oh! just let my tears flow
to you,
and wherever you go
wave to a dream gone by...
