

Something More

Chikinki

I woke up in a dream or that's what I thought
Something strange was happening
It was like a movie scene or that's what I thought
Racing through this happening. I don't want this forever
It's an illness and I want to get better
Won't you tell me something more!
Something tells me what I believe in and I believe that I'm wrong for deceiving
I could let you have a thousand clichés, but I would have to let you say..

Won't you tell me something more!?!
Won't you tell me something more!?!
Won't you tell me something more!?!
Won't you tell me something more!?!

Every day I fill out forms in this envelope computers all know my name
I tried to reform but I couldn't cope. I still feel the same
Why do I see so many faces? Shed a song and leave no traces
I could make a list of all my illnesses, write a letter that refutes my thesis

Won't you tell me something more!?!
Won't you tell me something more!?!
Won't you tell me something more!?!
Won't you tell me something more!?!
