

See Me Fall

ChillinIT

I know you wanna see me fall
So let me take you on this journey if I lost it all
Fuck these platinum plaques across the wall
All these Cartier drawers that I copped just to ball
Let's go there, imagine if my head explodes
Positives and negatives and imma let em go
Now I'm booking out arenas for an empty show
Writing you a song to get ignored and you could never know
That's better though, imagine being the hater
Finally get inside of me and ruin my nature
You want me to keep change like tipping a waiter
But imagine if I was dealing with some shit that was greater and still smiling for you
Rhymes are so reversible
One minute Thomas the Tank, and then you're Percival
Imagine if I never got the Chrysler convertible
Imagine if you never heard my skill, life'd be so different
But God gave me talent 'cause I'm so gifted
And the plug's got the cabbage that be so lifted
Urgh, if I never had this fancy bank and all these fucking grams of dank
I'd still have all you fans to thank, real
Didn't go gold twice while I stand the rank
Wouldn't be here palms written while my hands are blank
Laugh about it, nah for real, boy laugh about it
Nah, keep fucking with me
Fuck it, I'll shoot myself with this pumpy and bleed
And make a promo 'cause that shit'll probably bump up my streams
When you're dead, all that loving come in double for free, that's real
I'm worth more dead or alive
I said, are rappers worth more dead or alive?
That's real, are rappers worth more dead or alive?
The price of fame's one we pay, I paid the heaviest price, that's real

Wanna see me fall
Wanna see me fall, wanna see me fall
They wanna see me fall and lose it all
I don't know if I can take no more, so no
