Chixdiggit!

If I'm not important why's the only time that you phone me
When your boyfriend's away and you're calling to say that you'r e lonely

You've been lying to people you knew
Since you left the womb
Thought it wouldn't, but then it happened to me

Right away I loved your eyes and you loved my mouth
Stole a bunch of your parents' air-miles and heading south

As long as it didn't come off the street
It was stuff you allowed me to eat
We had a good time then it was more than I thought it would be

Now, when it felt right it felt kinda wrong
You simply wanted, we did so
I now know, when you lie, your eyebrows raise a little bit

I'm gonna put the donkey
Right where the boss told me to
I don't believe, it's tough, I know, I shouldn't be
C.G.I.T. [...]

That time thought i was the only guy that you did this with
Then I found out I was a couple down on your favorites list

I thought that there must be one too
Cause you [...] when I see you
I'm gonna take that as a perfect cue to leave
I guess it's as good as it could have been
