

Guess we grew out of running away from reality
When the high doesn't soften the lows like it used to do
You remember the old me, remember the mornings too
The memory has you fooled
I swear I get it

We were something great man we could make em jealous
You were into fuckboys like it was a fetish
Selfish and we drunk enough to forgive anything but ahhh
Now you're on the payroll in another city
Looking at the past but there's no future in the girl you used to be

Cos honey in the suburbs we
Had all we'd ever need
To live forever and ever
But here we are at twenty three
Always thought that we'd be
Somebody better, uh huh, uh huh, uh huh, ooh
One day when we have it all
Cos we ain't going nowhere no way
We'll be unforgettable
But it's hard to believe when
We are twenty three
And we swore that we'd be somebody better
It's never how we dreamed it together
Uh huh

You know things could be easier if we gave into it
If we accepted our fate and made peace with the lines we tow
But then look in the mirror and see someone you don't know
It's in our control
But still I get it

We were something great man we could make em jealous
You were into fuckboys like it was a fetish
Selfish and we drunk enough to forgive anything but ahhh
Now you're on the payroll in another city
Looking at the past but there's no future in the girl you used to be

Cos honey in the suburbs we
Had all we'd ever need
To live forever and ever
But here we are at twenty three
Always thought that we'd be
Somebody better, uh huh, uh huh, uh huh, ooh
One day when we have it all
Cos we ain't going nowhere no way
We'll be unforgettable
But it's hard to believe when
We are twenty three
And we swore that we'd be somebody better
It's never how we dreamed it together
Uh huh

The photographs are clear so you
See the memory more than here baby
But I can't hate these years though they

Tear apart they've kept you near to me

Cos honey in the suburbs we
Had all we'd ever need
To live forever and ever
But here we are at twenty three
Always thought that we'd be
Somebody better, uh huh, uh huh, uh huh, ooh
One day when we have it all
Cos we ain't going nowhere no way
We'll be unforgettable
But it's hard to believe when
We are twenty three
And we swore that we'd be somebody better
It's never how we dreamed it together
Uh huh
