

Do It Alone

Chloe Howl

Are you lonely, I noticed she is never on your arm
You found me, last where you lay on the torment
You told me the walls are closing in on you but boy, tread softly
Wanted to be free, don't mean you are
Cause you're on different sides, and you and me we're right in the middle
You're trying to speed up time and breaking all the rules
Weren't satisfied, you want to get away and get in with resource the riddle
You want to break a heart, I won't commit the crime

If you're trying to leave your girl for me
Gotta do it alone, you've gotta do it all on your own
'Cause I won't let you use me to break free
Gotta do it alone, you've gotta do it all on your own
Because I'm not gonna be your alibi or your excuses, excuses
And I won't take cover of the blame for your lies
Do it alone, you gotta do it all on your own

I like you, I feel it too
If I surrender, but I can't do work the plot into a gold end
It's so true that once you play, it's hard to quit the game
Cause if you win, who will
Cause you're on different sides, and you and me we're right in the middle
You're trying to speed up time and breaking all the rules
Weren't satisfied, you want to get away
You want to break a heart, I won't commit the crime

If you're trying to leave your girl for me
Gotta do it alone, you've gotta do it all on your own
'Cause I won't let you use me to break free
Gotta do it alone, you've gotta do it all on your own
Because I'm not gonna be your alibi or your excuses, excuses
And I won't take cover of the blame for your lies
Do it alone, you gotta do it all on your own

If you're tearing her apart, won't help you
When you're trying to start a war, won't help you
When I'm close to somebody new, I won't help you
Be excessory to this honesty

If you're trying to leave your girl for me
Gotta do it alone, you've gotta do it all on your own
'Cause I won't let you use me to break free
Gotta do it alone, you've gotta do it all on your own
Because I'm not gonna be your alibi or your excuses, excuses
And I won't take cover of the blame for your lies
Do it alone, you gotta do it all on your own
