Small

chloe moriondo

Something about you escapes me
I've lost my charm
Something about me is see-through
I can't do no more harm, anymore
I can take the dizzy daydreams
I think they are fine
But I'm not used to dealing
With feeling like I'm wasting your time
Oh...

And I'm suddenly not interested in
Whatever the rest of the world has to offer so
I drown facedown in my head and Feel my state start to alter cause
You... Because you

I can try to shake off the stupid
Cause it shouldn't be that hard
But when I start moving
I begin to think about your stars

And it's not like I'm not familiar with Dulling myself to tepid
But I've never cared so much about
Avoiding overstepping
And when I think about you I forget
About my hands
And all I hear are dancing girls and Snapping rubber bands
And you don't know what that means

But I'm suddenly not interested in
Whatever the rest of the world has to offer so
Despite my ticks and buzzes
I'll listen to you whenever you're feeling low
Promise I won't interrupt cause
My breath ends up catching
Whenever I hear you speak
Endlessly try to make you smile cause
Whenever I see it my knees always get so weak

Because you...
Because you...
