

Find You To Find Me

Chris August

Just 25, I'm a quarter of a lifetime
Still trying to figure out who I really am inside
Oh, yes I am
Heard I should look in every religion
Heard I should look on the streets of LA
But the more time passes, the more I'm understanding

Don't have to dive to the bottom of the ocean
Don't have to climb to the highest peak
Been looking hard, now I finally see
I gotta find You if I wanna find me

I need to look to the healing hand that made me
Ooh, yes I do
I need to look to the only One who saves me, oh
I find my rest in open arms of mercy
I find my voice by speaking Your word
And I find my heart in a love that never leaves

Oh, don't have to dive to the bottom of the ocean
Don't have to climb to the highest peak
Been looking hard, now I finally see
I gotta find you if I want to find me

'Cause You were there when my story began
And the pen's still there in Your hand
So keep calling my name, I'll keep trusting Your plan
And that's how I keep finding out who I am

Don't have to dive to the bottom of the ocean
Don't have to climb to the highest peak
Been looking hard, now I finally see
I gotta find You if I wanna find me, yeah

Don't have to dive to the bottom of the ocean
Don't have to climb to the highest peak
Been looking hard, now I finally see
I gotta find You if I wanna find me
I gotta find You if I wanna find me
I gotta find You if I wanna find me
