

Worry

Chris August

Doctor
Let there be a doctor in the house

I need some one a little smarter
I can't wait a little longer

Can you tell me what the pain's about

You see I look fine like I'm alright
But I'm feeling like my mind is a mess

Cause I got some bills on the table
And my job's unstable and now I can feel it in my chest

He said you knew that the day would come
You already know where to run to
The one who can turn it all around

Don't you worry 'bout a thing
You know it won't change a thing
Look at every bird in the blue sky
Every flower in the ground
That you pass by
No, don't you worry 'bout a thing

Trouble
Trouble
It's always gonna be around the bend

But I read ahead up to the ending
And it's back to the beginning
Gonna come and make it beautiful again

So take the heartache
Cause you took the burden
Leaving me with nothing but the peace

It's been a minute been awhile
Since I meant it when I smiled
But you hold tomorrow and you're holding me
Don't you worry 'bout a thing
You know it won't change a thing
Look at every bird in the blue sky
Every flower in the ground
That you pass by
No, don't you worry 'bout a thing

Who keeps the whole world spinning
And knows the pain I've been in
And every season stays the same

The one who takes the nothing
Turns it in to something
You're the reason I can say
You're the reason I...

Don't you worry 'bout a thing
You know it won't change a thing
Look at every bird in the blue sky
Every flower in the ground
That you pass by
No, don't you worry 'bout a thing

If you're down on your knees at night
Wondering if he's still there
He loves you
If you need to heart it
He loves you
Just know
He loves you
And he hasn't forgot about you
