Damage

Chris Brown

Damage, you know sometimes you don't realize what you've done
Until you've seen the damage
And I looked at the damage
Look at the damage

3 a.m. when my phone ring, beggin' me to come by
I was right around the corner
I know I could've said no but I ain't stop
Told me, 'Come in, the doors unlocked for you"

My intuition, I should have listened to it
My girl, yo, she'd be pissed if she knew about this visit
She had a tank top on, I took her tank top off
But should've stopped, stop

But she ain't lettin' me
Kissed me soft and gently, she tempt me
Right then I stopped thinkin' consequences
Guess I must have lost my mind for a minute

There's no better love
Girl, I love you, with her, that was lust, yeah
Shouldn't have left and I know I messed up, yeah
One phone call's done this whole thing now
Look at the damage, look at the damage

The damage, damage that I caused you
Now I broke your heart
'Cause I did you wrong now
Look at the damage, look at the damage that I've caused

The dumbest decision that I made that I ain't proud of
A few hours that meant absolutely nothing cost me your love
I gotta live with regret, deserve to get what you give
That you won't listen to nothing that I'm saying

I rode past your house for hours, just to feel close to you
No cards, no gifts, no flowers could get me back with you
Your kiss, your touch, girl, you know I miss it
But you got my heart inside a prisonless cage

There's no better love
Girl, I love you, with her, that was lust, yeah
Shouldn't have left and I know I messed up, yeah
One phone call's done this whole thing now
Look at the damage, look at the damage

The damage, damage that I caused you
Now I broke your heart
'Cause I did you wrong now
Look at the damage, look at the damage that I caused

I was trippin', I was dippin'
With these women in these streets
Lost my girl, lost out there
Wish I could take it back

I was trippin', I was dippin'
With these women in these streets
Wish I could take that back, baby

Girl, I love you, with her, that was lust, yeah
Shouldn't have left and I know I messed up, yeah
One phone call's done this whole thing now
Look at the damage, look at the damage

The damage, damage that I've caused you
Now I broke your heart
'Cause I did you wrong now
Look at the damage, look at the damage that I've caused

Look at the damage, look at the damage, yeah
You know sometimes you don't realize what you've done
Until you've seen the damage
And I looked at the damage
