

Give Your Love Away

Chris Crocker

You call me up at night and said
we danced with words for hours until the sun comes up.
We talk about love and all the things that cause us pain
and all the things that make us sick.

And love and hurt are both four letter words
but that don't mean love has to hurt,
that just means you gotta know what your worth.

And you give give give your love away to guys
who can't appreciate, but I do.
And I'm standing right beside you.

I'm trying to mend your hurt but you give him all the power,
all I keep thinking about, is what about us,
because we're the thing that makes us great,
we're the thing that's everything.

And love and hurt are both four letter words
but that don't mean love has to hurt,
that just means you gotta know what your worth.

And you give give give your love away to guys
who can't appreciate, but I do.
And I'm standing right beside you.

You gave it all away and he did was take,
all I'm here to take the pain away.

And love and hurt are both four letter words
but that don't mean love has to hurt,
that just means you gotta know what your worth.

And you give give give your love away to guys
who can't appreciate, but I do.
And I'm standing right beside you.
