

Safe Place

Chris Kläfford

You're no stranger to heartbreak
I'll be brave if you're afraid
All I ask is that you stay
Though you're running low on patience, darling

'Cause everyone you've ever loved
Left you broken, beat, and scarred
Is there room left in your heart?
Though you're running low on patience, darling

Running, running from yourself
Just lay it all on somebody else
Stop running, running rest your weary head

On your darkest days, when you're black and blue
Keep your body firm 'cause I will carry you
Through the coldest nights, I can ease your pain
Darling let me send a little light your way

Every step of the way I'll be your safe place

From stormy seas I'll bring you home
I'll pull you from the undertow
While I breathe you're not alone
And all I have is patience, darling

I'll guide you're like a northern star
It ain't no matter where you are
Call my name, I'm never far
I'll come running sure I'll make it, darling

Running, running from yourself
Just lay it all on somebody else
Stop running, running rest your weary head

On your darkest days, when you're black and blue
Keep your body firm 'cause I will carry you
Through the coldest nights, I can ease your pain
Darling let me send a little light your way

Every step of the way I'll be your safe place

I'll let no harm ever come to you, come to you
I'll send your demons on their way
I promise no matter what you do, what you do
You'll never find a safer place