

Tears Will Fall

Chris Norman

Tears will fall, like rain
Never gonna see the likes of him again
He was brave, he was noble with a lion's heart
Was a true saviour from the start

So, open your eyes and see it unfold
Some kind of secret treasures of gold
Well, the enemy is sleeping, and the coast is clear
Just a seafaring sailor anchoring here

Clap your hands and cry
No, no, no, no
Don't you take me for a ride
Come tomorrow you will hang your head and cry for me
Cry for all
The tears that fall

I'm looking down on my tombstone
Shining brightly and never alone
With no fear of the future, it's all in the past
I'm a seafaring sailor tied to the mast

Cry
No, no, no, no
Don't you take me for a ride
Come tomorrow you will hang your head and cry for me
Cry for all
The tears that fall
The tears that fall

Cry
No, no, no, no
Don't you take me for a ride
Come tomorrow you will hang your head and cry for me
Cry for all
The tears that fall
The tears that fall
