

Too Many Hearts Have Been Broken

Chris Norman

Ooh, how are we going to
Get it together now
Now that it's already over
Too many hearts have been broken

Baby, how can we change this
Somehow arrange it to be
Why don't we both think it over
Too many hearts have been broken
Too many hearts have been broken

People when they parted
They become the brokenhearted
Well that's the way the story goes
When you find the perfect lover
And you finally discover
That it's so good for you
You never will recover

Too many hearts have been broken

People when they parted
They become the brokenhearted
Well that's the way the story goes
When you find the perfect lover
And you finally discover
That it's so good for you
You never will recover

Ooh, how are we going to
Get it together now
Now that it's already over
Too many hearts have been broken

Too many hearts have been broken
Broken and broken and broken and broken
Too many hearts have been broken
Too many hearts have been broken
Broken and broken...