

Since You've Been Gone

Chris Rea

Since you've been gone
There's a cold wind blowing
I never felt before
Oh, since you've been gone
There's a cold wind blowing
I never felt before
I would give anything
To see you back up to my door

Since you've been gone
I don't laugh like I used to do
Oh, since you've been gone
Oh my sweet little angel
I can't stop thinking about you

Since you've been gone
I don't use my dancing shoes anymore
Since you've been gone
They don't seem to smile like they did before
Cos they remind me of you angel
I can't really use them no more
Since you've been gone

We'll there's a big old empty space
Where my sunshine used to be
Oh, there's a big old empty space
Where my sunshine used to be
And everybody talking
They say, what's gonna become of me
Since you've been gone
