

Weekend Down Mexico

Chris Rea

I remember the days gone by
I would wipe a tear from your pretty little eyes
And say darling don't you cry
We'll find a way
We'll get by

You looked at me with a wonderful smile
We held each other close for a while
Two young souls sworn never to part
Their love was too strong

And I can never let go
The memory that haunts me so
That long long weekend
Down mexico

And sometimes I still feel it inside
And taste one of those tears that we cried
Two young souls sworn never to part
Their love was too strong

And I can never let go
The memory that haunts me so
That long long weekend
Down mexico
