

Fountain

Chris Renzema

Well let my bones that once were broken, dance now
Let my heart that once was shattered, rejoice
Let my light that once was dimmed down, shine out
And let that garden snake's lies be unmade, and water flow

Well let my bones that once were broken, dance now
Let my heart that once was shattered, rejoice
Let my light that once was dimmed down, shine out
And let that garden snake's lies be unmade, and water flow

It's coming from inside of me
This life, this hope, this freedom
Your love, it changes everything
You're a fountain of joy

Spring up oh well, oh, spring up oh well
Spring up oh well, spring up oh well
Spring up oh well, spring up oh well
Spring up oh well, oh, spring up oh well
Spring up oh well, spring up oh well
Spring up oh well, spring up oh well
Spring up oh well, oh, spring up oh well
Spring up oh well, oh, spring up oh well
Spring up oh well, spring up oh well
Spring up oh well, oh, spring up oh well
Spring up oh well, oh, spring up oh well
Spring up oh well, spring up oh well

It's coming from inside of me
This life, this hope, this freedom
Your love, it changes everything
You're a fountain of joy

Let my bones that once were broken, dance now
Let my heart that once was shattered, rejoice
Let my light that once was dimmed down, shine out
And let that garden snake's lies be unmade, and water flow