

You're An Angel, And I'm Gonna Cry

Chris Thile

What do you see that's so beautiful

It always reflects in your eyes

The world casts no shadows across your sweet face

You're an angel and I'm gonna cry

When I used to see you I'd smile

Just a pretty girl up on a sign

Then I'd thank god for mine now she's leaving

And I need an angel to keep me from crying

You're an angel and I'm gonna cry

'cause I can't have you and I'm not gonna try

But I'm wasting this dream with my troubles

Let me rest in your arms for a while

Say you love me 'cause when I wake up dear

You'll just be an angel and I'm gonna cry

Say you love me 'cause when I wake up dear

You'll just be an angel and I'm gonna cry
