

All Time Favorite

Chris Trapper

You think I think too much of myself and I think you've been seeing someone else 'Cause you've been working out and dressing up and leaving too much lipstick on your cup

Well, darling who would figure that you'd get bigger and take on the world alone and leave me home every night Well, if it's your desire throw me in the fire this emperor has no clothes and how it shows

every time you go

I think I know everything is true but you know you know everything too You're out busy planning your escape and I'm a super hero with no cape

I'm sulking in my chair when you get back You're holding something secret in a sack
It's a gift you got just for me, I thought I'd die
My all time favorite peanut butter pie
