

Into the Bright Lights

Chris Trapper

Up and away we set off
Secretly scared we'd get lost
Up in the clouds, over the town
Beyond the wall

Some of us knew we might fall
Under the weight of it all
And though we'd been warned of the oncoming storms
Still we stood tall

Soar from the moonlight
Straight to the sunrise
This will be our time
To free-fall and nosedive
Out of the black night
Into the bright lights
With the whole world in our sight
Like a miniature paradise

My shadow is cast on the ground
But I'm flying too fast to look down
At the rooftops and trees, and my family
Waving at me
