

Down

Chris Young

You came out of nowhere
Sundress in a Sunday style
Wasn't ready, girl, I swear
Your eyes stole the blue right out of that sky
We might not have made it
But that didn't matter
Baby, there's a fine line between
Forever and a beautiful disaster

I brought the thunder and you brought the rain
Your kiss did me in like a hurricane
I'm still fixin' up this heartbreak house
But lovin' you's still the best storm that ever came down, down
, down
That ever came down, down, down

You were one in a million
And they say lightnin' never strikes twice, but
The way that your lips on my lips lit me up
If it did, I sure wouldn't mind

I brought the thunder and you brought the rain
Your kiss did me in like a hurricane
I'm still fixin' up this heartbreak house
But lovin' you's still the best storm that ever came down, down
, down
That ever came down, down, down
That ever came down

We might not have made it
But that didn't matter
Baby, there's a fine line between
Forever and a beautiful disaster

I brought the thunder and you brought the rain
Your kiss did me in like a hurricane
I'm still fixin' up this heartbreak house
But lovin' you's still the best storm

I brought the thunder, and you brought the rain
Your kiss did me in like a hurricane
I'm still fixin' up this heartbreak house
But lovin' you's still the best storm that ever came down, down
, down
That ever came down, down, down
That ever came down