

A Plan Too Far

Chrissie Hynde

I could believe it when you found another one
And lived to see when you were wrestled to the ground
The lady gets what she wants, it's true
What she didn't get, there's two of you

Went dark when the moon hid behind a tree
But I could tell you were standing over me
I took a drink from your moonshine jar
Yeah baby, see you've got a plan too far

Hey, the slope gets slippier
Yeah, the women get lippier
Oh no, you can't come back to me

Look here now, this is where you are
A big blue sky and a plan too far

You're two sided sure as day and night
Up and down and then you're left and right
You're as consistent as a weather vane cock
But still pretending you can beat the clock

Yeah, people talk and they have no shame
They see your picture and they know your name
Modern stalking with a common touch
Nobody knows nothing, but they know too much, yeah

Hey, the slope gets slippier
Yeah, the women get lippier
Oh no, you can't come back to me

Well look here now, this is where you are
A big blue sky and a plan too far
But pretty baby you're a shooting star
In a big blue sky and a plan too far

Look here now, this is where you are
A big blue sky and a plan too far
But pretty baby you're a shooting star
In a big blue sky with a plan too far
