

Girl Go

Chrissy Metz

Remember sitting in that empty Walmart parking lot
Fighting back all them tears trying to get that Ford to start
Same shit, different day
Yeah, you thought it'd never change

Remember when you had to say "do you want fries with that?"
You thought you'd never get the chance to find a bigger dot on the map
But at the end of the day
Just needed someone to say

Girl go
Dream on down that road
Roll down that window
And let that freedom in
Let your hand dance in the wind
Girl go
You can always come back home
You might see your name in shining lights all around the world
But don't you ever let that girl go

When they try to tell you who are and what you're not
You might never get used to it but it's never going stop
You're gonna hear a bunch of "nos"
But that's just how it goes

Girl go
Dream on down that road
Roll down that window
And let that freedom in
Let your hand dance in the wind
Girl go
You can always come back home
You might see your name in shining lights all around the world
But don't you ever let that girl go

So girl go

Girl go
Dream on down that road
Roll down that window
And let that freedom in
Let your hand dance in the wind
Girl go
You can always come back home
You might see your name in shining lights all around the world
But don't you ever let that girl go
So girl go
Don't you ever let that girl go
