

Two Forevers

Christian Bautista

You're a quiet Sunday morning
A river gently flowing
You're the midnight stars glowing
Like diamonds on the ocean

Thought I'd never want someone
Like I want you when each day's done
It's in the magic of the moment
I touch heaven and hold it

One lifetime won't be enough
The way you love me this much
Baby it's hard to find the words
You're much more than I deserve
Oh let my eyes tell you the truth
I'll need two forevers with you

You're the courage I sometimes don't have
The forgiveness when I get mad
You're the laughter when I've lost mine
And the love that crosses all lines

One lifetime won't be enough
The way you love me this much
Baby it's hard to find the words
You're much more than I deserve
Oh let my eyes tell you the truth
I'll need two forevers with you

You're voice echoes in my soul
Like an angel I've always known
Before the start of time
You're love was written in the sky

One lifetime won't be enough
The way you love me this much
Baby its hard to find the words
You're much more than I deserve
Oh let my eyes tell you the truth
I'll need two forevers
I'll need two forevers with you
