I don't have to duplicate
What the world does
There's an expiration date
On the worlds love
I don't have to duplicate
What the world does
There's an expiration date
On the worlds love

Now I sing as a friend
I don't mean to offend
Rather choose not to pretend
The last evil days
I can honestly say
That we need more discipline
Were gonna make some mistakes
But were all ashamed
And in iniquity
For our freedom is in
The redeemer of sin
Bearing all infirmities

I don't have to duplicate
What the world does
There's an expiration date
On the worlds love

Now I find it disturbing
We're dying from words
That we speak into our life
Such a powerful thing
We allow it to bring
Of our verbal suicide
Call it a trend or fad
But as christians we have a responsibility
So come out from among them
At a piece, at a part
Living what we must live and breath
(Get your skate shoes on)
(Come on marlow)
I don't have to do or say
Anything to duplicate
What this world has got
It's played out
Played out anyway
I don't have to compromise
What I got I don't despise
Imma stay with Jesus
And I won't think twice
(It's so good)
Sure I feel so good about it now
(Sure I feel)
(It's so good)
(Sure I feel so good about it now)
Sure I feel
(Sure I feel)
(It's so good)

(Sure I feel so good about it now)
(Sure I feel)
(It's so good)
(Sure I feel so good about it now)
(Sure I)

I don't have to duplicate
What the world does
There's an expiration date
On the worlds love
I don't have to duplicate
What the world does
There's an expiration date
On the worlds love
