Everything

Christon Gray

You know, you kno-ooow
You know, you know

Tell me this, what's love if you don't get
Everything that you came for
And, why stay if you know you won't get
Everything that you came for
If you really know that I won't get
Everything that I came for
I'm sure that there's someone that I know will get
Everything that they came for

Don't thank me later, tell me now
If I'm the traitor then, tell me how
In love forever or are we out
Reveal the shadow of your doubt
Keep talking we, I'm calling you don't got nothing to say
You don't' wanna leave here, wanna be here
I done had enough
Of you telling me I overthink like I don't know that Better show me something, cause I'm ready to go

What's love if you don't get
Everything that you came for
And, why stay if you know you won't get
Everything that you came for
If you really know that I won't get
Everything that I came for
I'm sure that there's someone that I know will get
Everything that they came for

No clever eulogy was never you and me
Not dying to be your friend or play the fool again
Don't know why we both each other, oh how I love you so much
Stay over, we should slow up all the way down and get to know us
Every time I think that my heart can take much more
You find a way to break it down, how you gonna try and change it now
Feeling the rain of all this fire in my soul
I gave you everything and there ain't no more

What's love if you don't get
Everything that you came for
And, why stay if you know you won't get
Everything that you came for
If you really know that I won't get
Everything that I came for
I'm sure that there's someone that I know will get
Everything that they came for

Uuuuooooh (Everything)
Uuuuooooh (Everything)
Uuuuooooh (Everything)
Uuuuooooh (Everything)
Uuuuooooh (Everything)
Uuuuooooh
Everything that I came for
Uuuuh

Uuuh, uh, uuuuh
Uuuh, uh, uuuuh
Uuuh, uh
Everything that I came for
