

Perfect

Christon Gray

You're perfect
C'mon, you're perfect

You got this look of worthy on your face (I can see it)
And I can tell you lost motivation
You getting fed up with how long it takes (I can see it)
Please tell me what's your motivation (why you gotta be like that?)
If this is truely love
You don't have to look like the runway, girl
I can't stop shaking my head
You don't even know what you're really worth, no

You don't have to try, try
To be those type of girls
You don't have to try, try
To be those type of girls
I want you to know, you're beautiful
Just the way you are (you're perfect)
I want you to know, you're beautiful
Just the way, just the way you are (you're perfect)

I've never known my Dad to make mistakes
He can paint a picture like no other
Each stroke of genius never out of place
Just you wait until it's uncovered
You say it's been awhile
And you're feeling some kind of way
Well I say just keep your smile
Cause real love is worth the wait

I know where you are and where you been too
Where you're headed cause what you've been through
Where your head is, I mean, a friend's cool
But you'd rather something that never ends (true)
I know this, you're changing
I notice, switched focus
Was waiting, it's bogus, right?
So your brain's name is [?]
You're back in when Maxim approaches
But them [?] clean from them things demean, things esteemed within queens
You are prized, not to [?]
Ain't running behind, you're a rosebud
That's blooming' [?]

You don't have to try, try
To be those type of girls
You don't have to try, try
To be those type of girls
I want you to know, you're beautiful
Just the way you are (you're perfect)
I want you to know, you're beautiful
Just the way, just the way you are (you're perfect)
