

Say Something

Christon Gray

You should take it off
When we takin' off, I love it
Watchu waiting on
This your favorite song when we touching
Witchur pretty heart
I know they did you wrong, but it's nothin'
I can judge the whole book by your cover
But, I'm no good at making assumptions

You seem a little off-centered lately
Like your energy is somewhere else
I was hoping being in my arms would change it
But, at the moment I can't tell

Is it worth it?
We split like an ocean of emotional divide
I'm used to just floating in your vibe
Know that I'm open to those feelings that you hide
I just need a reply
Say something, I wanna know
Are we gonna make it or is it over
Please say something
I can ease your mind, but if you need some time
I ain't rushing, but I need to know
My soul is feeling vacant, I'm so anxious
Just say something
Anything at all, you can make the call
You can have it all, uh

Girls trip to get away, okay of course
So cold it's chillin' me and throwing me off course
I crossed my heart for you, the ball is in your court
I'm hard and watch me score
It's been a quite day
And I know conversation's an acquired taste
And usually we start with what you're tryna say
Hope you ain't mad about the other day
And if you're hangry, baby say something
She said maybe we're just too stubborn
And I'm worried about what it did to us
I guess that all depends on what we want
Or what we worked for

It ain't worth it
We split like an ocean of emotional divide
I'm used to just floating in your vibe
Know that I'm open to those feelings that you hide
I just need a reply
Say something, I wanna know
Are we gonna make it or is it over
Please say something
I can ease your mind, but if you need some time
I ain't rushing, but I need to know
My soul is feeling vacant, I'm so anxious
Just say something
Anything at all, you can make the call
You can have it all, uh
