

Automatic Love

Christophe Willem

I was always one to see the enemy
You can see the fire behind my eyes
Now I'm faking slides to insanity
Captured in a lone broken paradise

Living for nothing
Pretend to be something
I barely have a life
Walking in circles
And waiting for nothing
Just trying to survive

I wanna break free and handle me
From this systematic, automatic love
So hard to breathe in this emblematic static state we're in
I gotta lead on, trigger my soul, oh oh
It's what I need, breaking free
From this systematic, automatic love

I've been holding on, out of sympathy
Going through the motions, without a spark
I wanna feel the wind blow inside of me
I wanna lose control, feel the beat of my heart

Living for nothing
Pretend to be something
I barely have a life
Walking in circles
And waiting for nothing
Just trying to survive

I wanna break free and handle me
From this systematic, automatic love
So hard to breathe in this emblematic static state we're in
I gotta lead on, trigger my soul
It's what I need, breaking free
From this systematic, automatic love

Red alert. Break the curse. Rearrange the part
Do the walk. Do the talk. Say something that matters
Red alert. Break the curse. Rearrange the part
Do the walk. Do the talk. Say something, say something

I wanna break free and handle me
From this systematic, automatic love
So hard to breathe in this emblematic static state we're in
I gotta lead on, trigger my soul
It's what I need, breaking free
From this systematic, automatic love

What I need, is to break free from this automatic live
From this systematic, automatic love
