

Aiming

Christopher

Looking in the mirror, so much I would change
But a killer body, couldn't kill the thoughts in my brain
The reason that I struggle with insecurities
Is I compare their highlights to my behind the scenes

So tell me why we so in need of constant confirmation?
We don't even see the bigger picture with this filter, I say

We should be aiming, aiming
Aiming a little higher
We should be aiming, we should be aiming
We should be aiming a little higher
Cause we'll never change shit
If we keep on waiting
Living in this fake it 'til you make it generation
We should be aiming, we should be aiming
We should be aiming a little higher

Everyone's an expert, feet up on the couch
Waiting for somebody else to figure out
So easily offended, so hard to satisfy
I know I shouldn't care but I just can't be that guy, oh no

You tell me how we so in need of constant confirmation?
We don't even see the bigger picture with this filter, I say

We should be aiming, aiming
Aiming a little higher
We should be aiming, we should be aiming
We should be aiming a little higher
Cause we'll never change shit
If we keep on waiting
Living in this fake it 'til you make it generation
We should be aiming, we should be aiming
We should be aiming a little higher

Give me a reason, I'm dying
For something to believe in
Cause we can't keep on, lying
Pretending we don't see it

We should be aiming, aiming
Aiming a little higher
We should be aiming, we should be aiming
We should be aiming a little higher
Cause we'll never change shit
If we keep on waiting
Living in this fake it 'til you make it generation

We ain't got no patience
Too big expectations
So it's a fake it 'til you make it situation
Amen!
