

So High

CHROM

Someone is left here in the rain
Someone is calling out your name
These eyes are tired and ashamed
These eyes will burn out in your flames

So I let you be my destiny
Forget the time and what should be
There is no future I believe
There's only you and me

Only you and me

And I can't live without my pride
Can't stand the things that I
Have tried and failed in my life
And I didn't criticize
So I arranged me with a lie
And time kept passing by
Then I got so high
The last thing that I tried

So every day I wanted more
Sweet dreams that I was longing for
My mind was breaking, I ignored
I guess that I was bored

Yeah I was left here in the rain
And I was calling out your name
My eyes were tired and ashamed
My eyes just burned out in your flames

My eyes just burned out in your flames
