

The Start of Something New

CHROM

Once upon there was a time
I remembered that you were mine
Time is fading, time goes by
Searching for the reason why
I didn't try to let you know

You hoped that I could see
You always cared for me
And I don't even tried
To find the reason why
And then you walked away
With nothing left to say
I know that it's too late
To doubt and hesitate

I read the news and saw your face
You left the world to another place
You left it all behind
I hope to see you once again
The start of something new is not the end
Do you comprehend?
I hope you understand
I hope you understand

You hoped that I could see
You always cared for me
And I don't even tried
To find the reason why

To find the reason why

To doubt and hesitate