Faded Now

Chromatics

Summer skin, faded now
Rhythm blocks the light out
In a dream, fever breaks
Reaching for the water

You say the world is raining color
I see you standing close to grey
You say you'll never kiss another
I see you running far away

Summer skin, faded now
Can't seem to remember
Days go by, chasing nights
Nothing lasts forever

You say the world is raining color
I see you standing close to grey
You say you'll never kiss another
I see you running far away

Summer skin, faded now
Touch the sound of silence
Hazel eyes full of tears
Searching for the summer

You say the world is raining color
I see you standing close to grey
You say you'll never kiss another
I see you running far away

Faded now, faded now, faded now
Faded now, faded now, faded now
Faded now, faded now, faded now
Faded now, faded now, faded now
