

I Could Be Wrong

Chromeo

I could let it be what she wants to
She's never asking questions, never puts up a fight
I spent a couple years trying to follow her
Lurking in the shadows when she's nowhere in sight

Oh I could be wrong
But she knows what to hide
When she's leading me on
I just take it in stride

Now everybody says I should take it slowly
I let her set the pace and I follow her lead
We're building up our love, a situation
She tears it all apart with a look I can't read

Oh I could be wrong
But she knows what to hide
When she's leading me on
I just take it in stride

She keeps a lot of boys alone and waiting
She's keeping me on edge when I used to be bold
She keeps it to the vest, I won't say crafty
She keeps it to herself, but I won't say cold
And I thought I had her figured out, she escapes me
I wanted to discuss it, but she turned off her phone
And I tried to give it time and understanding
But what I can't comprehend is why she's still on her own

Oh I could be wrong
But she knows what to hide
When she's leading me on
I just take it in stride

You know, there's something about this girl, man. I just can't figure her out
Dave, you gotta stay focused. That's what I'm doing
I know, I know. Sometimes she just gets me so upset
Well come on, tell her how you feel

She makes me wanna shout it out, shout it out
She makes me wanna shout it at the top of my lungs
