My first and only love, I do sincerely ask of you The one and only question that my heart is wandering to:

Do you love me? Do you mean the things you say? If you love me, baby, you won't treat me this way. Don't treat me this way!

I tried so hard to proove to you that my love for you is real You never say sweet things to try to change the way I feel;

Do you love me? Do you mean the things you say? If you love me, baby, you won't treat me this way. Don't treat me this way!

(Do you love me? Do you mean the things you say to me?)

I never asked you were you've been or where you want to go But now the time has come, my dear, and I have got to know:

Do you love me? Do you mean the things you say? If you love me, baby, you won't treat me this way. Don't treat me this way!

(Don't treat me this way!)

(Don't treat me this way!)